The Haunting of Cabin Green - April Taylor 2018-04-25

Welcome to Cabin Green, where the setting is familiar, but the story is completely unexpected. This original, terrifying psychological thriller is the debut horror novel from the author of the Midnight Myths and Fairy Tales Series. Going to Cabin Green alone after the death of his fiancée was Ben's first mistake. His second mistake was tempting fate by saying, "There's no such thing as an evil building." Now he's caught in a nightmare of his own making deep in the woods of Northern Michigan. Even worse, a family history of mental illness makes it impossible for him to know if the ghosts haunting the cabin are real or all in his head. This modern Gothic horror story takes the reader directly into Ben's hellish experience. Is he crazy? Is a ghost haunting him? The only way to find out is to make it to the end of this deep, dark thrill ride that's filled with more twists than a roller coaster. This novel was inspired by a real-life, spooky green cabin in Northern Michigan that's so well-hidden it can't be found by GPS! Content Warning: This isn't a Saw-type torture story, but it does contain gore, sex, profanity, and deeply disturbing psychological themes. For mature readers only. Review for The Haunting of Cabin Green "This book will challenge its readers, and that is a good thing... You are taken on a nightmarish, uncomfortable journey and you soon realize you can't count on the standard rules of storytelling. The author is brave enough to push the envelope and leave you not even guessing the end!" - Goodreads Reviewer Reviews for the Author's Previous Work "Beautifully bewitching... it's a fast-paced, captivating tale, and the writing is exquisite." - Kindle Reviewer "This story is like a witch's spell drawing the reader in." - Kindle Reviewer "Very original... the ending was completely surprising." - Kindle Reviewer "It really whets your appetite for more." - Kindle Reviewer "I felt immersed in the story!" - Kindle Reviewer "Well-written and immediately draws you into the story, with no lag in momentum." - Goodreads Reviewer Excerpt from The Haunting of Cabin Green: A Modern Gothic Horror Novel ...Unsure what the vast blanket of fog was hiding but certain he wanted to live, Ben's limbs stopped moving. 'This is crazy. I know I didn't hit anything.' Another part of his mind refuted this logic. 'Then why am I crawling in the middle of a highway?' As distasteful and terrifying as it was, he'd never be able to live with himself if he didn't uncover the identity of the object - 'not a person' - that had tripped him. Hesitation clawed at every fiber of his being, but he forced his way forward until his right hand brushed a raw, rough surface. He yanked his hand back like it was on fire before regaining control of his actions. 'I can do this.' Ben reached out again, and his fingertips came into tentative contact with the alien object. The moisture in the air hadn't seeped into its skin. His left fist covered his mouth to stop audible proof of his fear from escaping. At the same time, he increased the pressure of his right fingers in a bid to figure out what - or who - had gotten in his way. A crumbling sensation sent shock waves throughout his body. He managed to hold on long enough for a small sliver of something unknown to drop into his palm. Unable to keep his composure any longer, he darted back to the car, careful not to drop the evidence. He slammed the door shut and jammed the locks in place before turning to face the source of his inevitable doom. With his eyes squeezed shut, he uncurled his fist and put the object on display. His left eyelid lifted a fraction of an inch to test the waters before he dove in and allowed both eyes to confront the truth...

PSYCHOLOGY: Research Innovations in young minds - Dr Aneesh V Appu & Dr Subha Sachithanand 2020-09-23

For the past years, more emphasis has been given in understanding the level of cultural adjustment that individuals face on migrating to a new country. Not much attention has been given on studying repatriates. This phenomenological study deals with the experiences of 17 Indian repatriates, their emotional challenges and the various coping strategies that they had to employ in order to smoothen their repatriation process on returning to their home country. Six main themes were identified on applying thematic analysis to the individual semi-structured interviews: relief from hardships faced in the host country, stronger bond with the home country, feeling of being an alien in your home country, dynamic factors upon repatriation, emotive encounters and coming to terms with chaos associated with repatriation. Findings from the study, shows that the repatriates had faced many emotional challenges such as feeling of alienation, difficulty in adjusting to the old culture and getting a job, adjusting to the new work settings, grief on leaving the host country, idleness and laziness felt on repatriation, societal and familial pressure and financial struggles. Financial security, positive adjustment to the new work settings and the new income scale, lessons learned from the hostile experiences faced while abroad, pre-arrangements done in the home country before repatriating and reintegrating host culture into home culture served as an effective coping strategy, which eventually helped them in their successful repatriation over time.

Weight Control and Physical Activity - International Agency for Research on Cancer 2002

Avoiding overweight and obesity is the best-established diet-related risk factor for cancer. The proportion of people who are overweight/obese is increasing, and the amount of physical activity is decreasing in most populations, including urban populations in many developing countries. The increasing prevalence of overweight/obesity is presumably due to the increasing availability of highly palatable, high-energy foods, and an increasing sedentary lifestyle due to mechanisation of both workplace and leisure activities. Overweight/obesity and reduced physical activity increases the risk of cancers in various organs. Maintaining a healthy body weight and regular physical activity is the second most important way to prevent cancer, after tobacco control. The suggestions of possible public health actions to tackle these risk factors include the promotion of balanced diets, which are not excessive in energy, and broad education and planning to enable and encourage physical activity during work and leisure. Recommendations and a full discussion of these topics are included in the sixth volume in this series of Handbooks.

Health Psychology - Shelley E. Taylor 2020

"When I wrote the first edition of Health Psychology over 30 years ago, the task was much simpler than it is now. Health psychology was a new field and was relatively small. In recent decades, the field has grown steadily, and great research advances have been made. Chief among these developments has been the use and refinement of the biopsychosocial model: the study of health issues from the standpoint of biological, psychological, and social factors acting together. Increasingly, research has attempted to identify the biological pathways by which psychosocial factors such as stress may adversely affect health and potentially protective factors such as social support may buffer the impact of stress. My goal in the tenth edition of this text is to convey this increasing sophistication of the field in a manner that makes it accessible, comprehensible, and exciting to undergraduates"--
