The Rules of Parenting - Richard Templar 2013-03-06
Some parents make it all look easy. They always seem to know the right things to do and say, however tricky the situation. They have a seemingly instinctive ability to raise happy, confident, well-balanced children. Children who handle their emotions well, enjoy life, respect others, are decent and thoughtful and stand up for what they believe in. Is there something these parents know that the rest of us don't? Is it something we could learn? The answer is a resounding yes. They know The Rules of Parenting. The golden principles and behaviours that will guide you smoothly through the challenges of raising children. This new edition contains 9 new rules to help you keep calm and in control, and put your children on the path to becoming successful independent adults. You'll get more out of being a parent. They'll become all they can be.

The Rules of Thinking -

"To some extent this book isn't about how to think at all. Many of the Rules are about how to remove the barriers that get in the way of good, clear thinking. How to avoid self-interest, sidestep assumption, dodge the pitfalls. Once you do that, it's easy to think clearly. It would be implausibly convenient if there just happened to be exactly 100 Rules of Thinking. So these are the key 100, which are more than enough to change your thought patterns significantly for the better. Once you've mastered these Rules, you'll be much better placed to notice more of your own. Please feel free to share them on my Facebook page if you'd like to, and help other people join you as a fully-fledged Rules thinker"--

The Rules of Love - Richard Templar 2009

Part of the worldwide bestselling 'Rules' series. Over 2 million 'Rules' books sold worldwide and translated into 22 languages. Love matters. Whether it's the romantic kind or the emotional bond between you and family or friends. Indeed latest research suggests that those who love and are loved are significantly more likely to be alive in 10 years time than those without love in their lives. Love makes us happy, and the happier we are, the longer it seems we tend to live. But it isn't always easy to love and be loved. Love is also complicated.

Relationships are invariably complex and they need to be attended to, nurtured, worked at, and invested in. It's all too easy to neglect relationships - often without realising it - and this benign neglect leaves you one day wondering why this special relationship has crumbled, unravelled, waned or lost its sparkle. Forming good relationships isn't easy either. Same sex relationships can be tricky enough (mothers and daughters, brothers and brothers) but when it's the opposite sex - especially boyfriend/girlfriend) you have the added complication that the other person is wired completely differently and may see things in completely different ways. If you study people who are so good at relationships you discover it's not about their personality or gender or how self sacrificing they are. Those who are great in all relationships usually do have to work at it - the secret is that they know exactly where to put their efforts. They know The Rules of Love. In this book these Rules are revealed, so you too can benefit from the simple principles of forming and sustaining strong, enduring and ultimately, life enhancing relationships.

Contents Introduction Rules for Finding Love 1. Be yourself 2. Get over it before you get on with it 3. You won't be happy with a partner until you can be happy on your own 4. You'll know them when you meet them 5. Choose someone who makes you laugh 6. Being less than a hundred percent attractive is a great filter 7. Don't keep making the same mistakes 8. Certain people are off limits (you know who they are) 9. You can't change people 10. Relationships aren't about sex 11. Get to know someone through all the seasons before making any major decisions 12. Don't stay with someone who doesn't care 13. If you can't trust them, you haven't got a relationship 14. Be honest (while you still have the chance) 15. Don't play games 16. Don't tar new partners with old brushes 17. Check you both have the same shared goals 18. You can't make someone love you 19. Be cruel to be kind Relationship Rules 20. Be nice 21. Be together because you want to, not because you need to 22. Allow your partner the space to be themselves 23. Look to your own faults 24. Be honourable 25. Put each other first 26. Recognize the signs

27. Be a hero - or a heroine 28. Accept the differences, embrace what you have in common 29. Don't belittle your partner 30. You want to do what? 31. Let not the sun go down upon your wrath 32. Be the first to say sorry 33. Houston, we have a problem 34. Don't put them on a pedestal and expect them to stay there 35. Know when to listen and when to act 36. Never stop trying to be attractive 37. If you can say something nice, do 38. Don't try to be their parent 39. Be part of their life 40. If little things annoy you, say so - with humour 41. Go that extra step in trying to please them 42. Make sure your partner is always pleased to see you 43. Don't dump responsibility on your partner 44. Let them know if you don't like their friends 45. Jealousy is your stuff, not theirs 46. Your partner is more important than your kids 47. Make time for romance 48. Have a passion for your life together 49. Share the workload 50. Trust the other one to do the job 51. Don't be a nag 52. Make sure your love making is making love 53. Don't control them 54. Listen to what they're not saying 55. Most everyday arguments are about something else 56. Respect privacy 57. Treat your partner better than your best friend 58. Don't be offended if they want some space 59. Men like flowers too 60. Keep your finances separate 61. Contentment is a high aim 62. Be generous to each other financially 63. You make a choice every day 64. Don't be a martyr 65. You don't both have to have the same rules 66. Put yourself in their shoes 67. In-laws are part of the package 68. Keep talking Rules for Parting 69. Listen to your own internal voice 70. Recognize that it takes two 71. Keep the moral high ground 72. Don't keep raking it over 73. Leave the kids out of it Family Rules 74. Don't blame your parents 75. Don't let your parents control your feelings 76. Your children come before you 77. Nothing is worth falling out over 78. Treat them the way you believe is right, no matter how they treat you 79. Don't pressurize your family just because you can 80. Never be too busy for loved ones 81. Your children need to fall out with you to leave home 82. They don't have to be the same as you 83. There's always stuff with siblings 84. Let go of your role Friendship Rules 85. There are no rules 86. Your best friend was once a stranger 87. Only have people in your life who, on balance, make it better not worse 88. If you're going to be a friend, be a good friend 89. Never give advice 90. Find friends who love the truth 91. Never lend money unless you're prepared to write it off 92. If you don't like their partner, tough 93. When one finger points forwards, three point back 94. Friendships change 95. Know when to let go 96. Bitterness helps no one Rules for Everyone 97. Guilt is a selfish emotion 98. Love equals time 99. The more you put out, the more you get back 100. Other people are where it's at Templar's The Rules of Parenting, Expanded Edition serves up 100+ flexible tips and adaptable "Rules" for your family, starting with the most important Rule of them all: RELAX. Here's all you need to know from toddler to first boyfriend/girlfriend, driving lessons through college and beyond... help with attitude, discipline, siblings, school, teenage life, crises, "grown" children... and above all, staying sane! Next, in Nobody Told Me That!, Roni Jay offers great advice for raising kids who are more confident, resilient, ethical, loving, competent, responsible, fulfilled, engaged, and enthusiastic. Jay identifies what the most successful parents do, distills those insights into 10 core principles, and shows how to actually apply them in your own family. Finally, in How Your Child Thinks, world-renowned child psychologist Dr. Stephen Briers goes inside your child's mind, and helps you give them the skills, tactics, and strategies they'll need to manage their own lives. Briers teaches powerful, proactive techniques that don't simply respond to bad behavior, but keep it from happening in the first place. Drawing on compelling new research on positive psychology, he shows how to cultivate specific habits of thought that nurture resilience and help "inoculate" against depressive illness... promote happiness and well-being... cultivate personal competence and social confidence... boost problem-solving skills, and more. With these eBooks, you and your kids will enjoy each other more... and they'll grow up with the solid foundation they need to find their own paths, build their own lives, and thrive! From world-renowned family happiness experts Richard Templar, Roni Jay, and Stephen Briers

Not Your Mother's Rules - Ellen Fein 2013-01-08

The authors behind the ubiquitous dating bible that launched a worldwide movement are back, accompanied by their daughters, with brand new advice updated for the modern era. How long should I wait to respond to his text message? Can I friend him on Facebook? Why did he ask for my number but never call me? When The Rules was published in 1995, its message was straightforward: be mysterious.

But for women looking for love today, it's not quite so simple. In a world of instant messaging, location check-ins, and status updates, where hook-ups have become the norm and formal one-on-one dates seem a thing of the past, it's difficult to retain the air of mystery that keeps men interested. Now, with help from their daughters, the original Rules Girls Ellen Fein and Sherrie Schneider share their thoroughly modern, fresh take on dating that will help women in today's information age create the happy love lives they want and deserve.

Whether you're a 20-something dating for the first time, a 30-something tired of being single, a 40-something giving advice to your daughter, or a 50-something getting back in the dating game, this book has the answers you've been waiting for. The Rules include: Stay Away from his Facebook Profile Make Yourself Invisible and Other Ways to Get Out of Instant Messaging Stop Dating a Guy Who Cancels More than Once Text-Back Times Chart

They glide effortlessly onwards and upwards, always seeming to know the right things to say and do, in every situation. Everybody likes them they are great to work with and to live with. They are happy (for the most part) and they know how to roll with life's punches. They have time for everybody and always seem to know what's important (and how to deal with what's not). Is there something they know and do that we don't? Is it something we could all learn? The answer is a most definite yes. They know the Rules of Life. The Rules of Life are the guiding principles that will help you achieve more, shrug off adversity more easily, get more out of life and generally be a happier, calmer, more fulfilled person. You'll feel the benefits and so will everyone around you. It's your life. How good could it be? "There are a few hints and tips that will have you sailing through the job of a manager looking cool, gaining points and coming up smelling of roses. These are the Rules of management - the unwritten, unspoken, unacknowledged Rules. Management is an art and a science. There are textbooks of thousands of pages devoted to how to do it. There are countless training courses (you've probably been on a few). However, what no textbook contains and no training course includes are the various 'unwritten' rules that make you a good, effective and decent manager - the Rules of management"--

The Rules of Parenting -

Richard Templar 2013-04-02
There are lots of wrong ways to bring up your kids, but there are lots of right ones, too. There's no list of instructions you have to follow to the letter if you don't want your child to end up a loser. Richard Templar's The Rules of Parenting, Expanded Edition presents the principles to follow which you can adapt to suit you and your children.

Templar -- author of The Rules of Life and many other best-sellers -- has brought together 100+ parenting tips you can start using instantly. Now updated and expanded with 10 brand-new rules, Templar's rules address everything you need to know from start to finish. Beginning with the first rule "Relax" and continuing through 100+ rules, this book presents a guide to everything a parent needs to know from toddling, school, boyfriends or girlfriends, through driving lessons and college. The book begins with a section that covers the most important rules, The Rules for Staying Sane. The rest of the sections cover some of the big questions of parenting, including the Attitude Rules, the Discipline Rules, the Sibling Rules, the School Rules, the Teenage Rules, the Crisis Rules, all the way up to the Grown-up Rules.
