My Emotions Journal - Lilly's Journal 2019-11-25

My Emotions Journal - A Creative Feelings Log Book For Kids & Early Teens! Everyone feels better when they can recognise and express their feelings and this can sometimes be difficult for kids to do - and even more so for those children coping with conditions such as depression, anxiety, aspergers, ausitm or adhd. This fun journal will give your child an outlet for their emotions, in a creative way through both writing and drawing. Each day has two pages to work with: On page 1... Is a section to identify 3 key emotions felt that day. This can help them to acknowledge how they've been feeling. A space to write/stick/draw or doodle about their feelings. A space to create their own Emoji face! A fun way for them to creatively express their key emotion for the day On page 2... Is a space to talk about how they felt during the day - in the morning/afternoon evening. A space to write down any potential emotional triggers they experienced that day. A space for important notes. These two pages are then repeated throughout the journal, with 122 pages in total to write on. Each journal is 6 x 9 inches, the ideal size to pack into their bag to school, or for trips away. Each journal has a quality soft cover, brightly covered with emoji faces and a smooth matte finish. If you're interested in other journals like this one, be sure to click on the author name & see what else is new!

It's allowed me to peacefully release stress from work. In the past, I would take it out on my family, but it was never their fault. Now I can release my thoughts on paper. Thanks joyful journal!" -Alice "I started listing 5 things a day that I am grateful for. At first, it was not that easy. Now that I have kept a gratitude journal for about two months, things have completely changed. Mainly my mindset. I just realize how much I took for granted small things. Like the smell of coffee, a nice hand written card, or just a nice compliment. I mainly use my journal for gratitude and my daily thoughts!" -Mary Scroll up and click 'buy' to grab a Joyful Journal today!

Inequalities in Young People's Health - Candace Currie 2008-07-28

This international report from the Health Behaviour in School-aged Children (HBSC) World Health Organization collaborative cross-national study [...] presents the key findings on patterns of health among young people in 41 countries and regions across Europe and North America. The document presents a status report on health, health-related behaviour and the social contexts of young people's health in 2005/2006 and provides the latest evidence from a unique cross-national study on the well-being of young people in industrialized nations. [...] In addition to presenting key statistics on young people's health, this report has a special focus on health inequalities. It presents data on gender, age and geographic and socioeconomic dimensions of health differentials. The aim of the report is to highlight where inequalities exist in aspects of young people's health and well-being in order to inform and influence policy and practice and to contribute to health improvement for all young people. [Ed.]
