Saints and Signs - Massimo Leone 2010-08-31
Catholic saints are also signs. Through the saints, the Catholic Church communicates certain models of spirituality.

After the Reformation, saints became the media through which the Catholic Church represented and promoted a renewal of the Catholic faith in Europe and in its colonies.

Saints and Signs analyzes hagiographies, paintings, and other texts representing the sanctity of Ignatius of Loyola, Philip Neri, Francis Xavier, and Therese of Avila, in order to answer the following question: How did these words and images influence the Catholic spirituality at the beginning of modernity?

The Birth of Intersubjectivity: Psychodynamics, Neurobiology, and the Self - Massimo

Ammaniti 2014-01-13

Neurobiological research helps explain the experience of motherhood. This book, the exciting collaboration of a developmental psychoanalyst at the forefront of functional magnetic resonance attachment research and a leading neurobiological researcher on mirror neurons, presents a fresh and innovative look at intersubjectivity from a neurobiological and developmental perspective. Grounding their analysis of intersubjectivity in the newest advances from developmental neuroscience, modern attachment theory, and relational psychoanalysis, Massimo Ammaniti and Vittorio Gallese illustrate how brain development changes simultaneously with relationally induced alterations in the subjectivities of both mother and infant. Ammaniti and Gallese combine extensive current interdisciplinary research with in-depth clinical interviews that highlight the expectant mother's changing subjective states and the various typologies of maternal representations. Building on Gallese's seminal work with mirror neurons and embodied simulation theory, the authors construct a model of intersubjectivity that stresses not symbolic representations but intercorporeality from a second-person perspective. Charting the prenatal and perinatal events that serve as the neurobiological foundation for postnatal reciprocal affective communications, they conclude with direct clinical applications of early assessments and interventions, including interventions with pregnant mothers. This volume is essential for clinicians specializing in attachment disorders and relational trauma, child psychotherapists, infant mental health workers, pediatricians, psychoanalysts, and developmental researchers. It combines fascinating new information and illustrative clinical experience to illustrate the early intersubjective origins of our own and our patients' internal worlds.

Philosophy in a New Century

- John R. Searle 2008-12-04

John R. Searle has made profoundly influential contributions to three areas of philosophy: philosophy of mind, philosophy of language, and philosophy of society. This volume gathers together in accessible form a selection of his essays in these areas. They range widely across social ontology, where Searle presents concise and informative statements of positions developed in more detail elsewhere; artificial intelligence and cognitive science, where Searle assesses the current state of the debate and develops his most recent thoughts; and philosophy of language, where Searle connects ideas from various strands of his work in order to develop original answers to fundamental questions. There are also explorations of the limitations of phenomenological inquiry, the mind-body problem, and the nature and future of philosophy. This rich collection from one of America's leading contemporary philosophers will be valuable for all who are interested in these central philosophical questions.

Stramaledettamente logico -

Armando Massarenti

2011-04-16T00:00:00+02:00

È andata a finire così. La filosofia viva, vitale, è fuggita dai libri accademici e si è rifugiata al cinema. Chi non si è chiesto se Neo in Matrix abbia fatto bene a prendere la pillola rossa, o non avrebbe invece dovuto prendere quella blu. Chi non si è domandato se Terminator può veramente cambiare il presente saltando dal suo futuro al nostro passato. Oltre il giardino, uno dei classici del ventesimo secolo, ci ricorda con elegante violenza che non siamo padroni delle nostre parole o del nostro destino. Vorreste davvero diventare Presidenti per caso? In Ricomincio da capo un uomo è intrappolato in un presente eternamente ripetuto: solo l'amore potrà liberarlo, ma come imparare ad amare nel mondo dell'eterno ritorno? Cinque filosofi italiani - Armando Massarenti, Achille C. Varzi, Roberto Casati, Nicla Vassallo, Claudia Bianchi - affrontano alcune tra le più complesse e intriganti domande filosofiche, a partire da altrettante sceneggiature per il cinema: come fai a sapere quanto credi di sapere e che non stai invece sognando?

In che modo interpreti le parole e i comportamenti degli altri e come fai a essere sicuro di aver capito cosa intendono dire davvero? È possibile cambiare il presente intervenendo sul passato? L'onniscienza renderebbe Dio un essere migliore degli uomini? I lettori sono tutti invitati ad acquistare un biglietto per una proiezione ad alta tensione mentale e accomodarsi in poltrona. Bioetica e cinema - Paolo Cattorini 2006

Questo volume introduce alla lettura di alcuni dilemmi morali in medicina, da quelli più comuni a quelli di frontiera, commentando più di settanta film e collegandoli ad altri trecentosettanta. Di ciascuna pellicola principale, recensita in una scheda specifica, è sintetizzata la trama, evidenziato un gruppo di parole chiave ed offerta una breve analisi valutativa. I temi di bioetica, dalla clonazione ai trapianti, dalla procreazione assistita all'eutanasia, per fare alcuni esempi, sono purtroppo talvolta trattati con superficialità nei servizi di cronaca o affrontati con giudizi alquanto schematici. Il cinema può essere un valido strumento di approfondimento in quanto coinvolge direttamente lo spettatore nel cuore di situazioni complesse, disegna rappresentazioni sociali e vissuti individuali emotivamente ricchi, apre prospettive inedite nella descrizione della realtà e svolge con coerenza narrativa alcune alternative comportamentali in merito alle quali occorre prendere una decisione nella vita reale. Il cinema, come la letteratura in genere, mette inoltre alla prova le teorie morali generali e prepara, attraverso le sue finzioni, un'interpretazione più fedele del significato dei gesti, delle storie, degli atteggiamenti su cui l'etica, in un contesto pluralistico, ha il compito di esprimere valutazioni razionali fondate e comprensibili. L'autore, docente di bioetica, propone un itinerario narrativo per affrontare i dilemmi morali che segnano le storie di malattia.

Grazie alla scansione per argomenti, alla chiarificazione dei concetti fondamentali, ai collegamenti fra i film, ai commenti sulle soluzioni drammatiche, il lettore potrà percepire più criticamente i valori in conflitto, mettere a tema le proprie reazioni emotive e sarà sollecitato ad elaborare ragionamenti a favore o contro una tesi etica, affinando le proprie capacità di analisi e dialogo e dialogo.

A Scientific Autobiography, reissue - Aldo Rossi 2010-01-29

A lyrical memoir by one of the major figures of postmodernist architecture; with drawings of architectural projects prepared especially for the book. This revealing memoir by Aldo Rossi (1937-1997), one of the most visible and controversial figures ever on the international architecture scene, intermingles discussions of Rossi's architectural projects—including the major literary and artistic influences on his work—with his personal history. Drawn from notebooks Rossi kept beginning in 1971, these ruminations and reflections range from his obsession with theater to his concept of architecture as ritual.

Don Quixote. The Leadership of Near-Win - Beppe Carrella

What can Don Quixote, patron saint of the resilient, dauntless champion of near-victories, teach us about leadership? And who, much like him, wouldn't want to be a knight? To live a thousand adventures, to amaze and astonish, to be rewarded with fame, to be the carrier of great ideals and values. What happened to that dream? We are so quick to label believers as fools... and who is more of a dreamer than the don?

Someone who lost his marbles, who has started to see beauty in his surroundings. Who calls the "truth" of this world into question. The don has a vision, which compels him to set off with nag and squire, just moving forward. We too might become the heroes of the story, one failure after the other.

Uphold our ideals when everything around us is falling apart. Take our talent into our own hands. And well, to quote Will Eisner, it doesn't matter whether Don Quixote truly existed, what matters is that his dream did. Foreword by Cristina Koch.

Goedel's Way - Gregory Chaitin

Kurt Gödel (1906-1978) was an Austrian-American mathematician, who is best known for his incompleteness theorems. He was the greatest mathematical logician of the 20th century, with his contributions extending to Einstein's general relativity, as he proved that Einstein's theory allows for time machines. The Gödel incompleteness theorem - the usual formal mathematical systems cannot prove nor disprove all true mathematical sentences - is frequently presented in textbooks as something that happens in the rarefied realms of mathematical logic, and that has nothing to do with the real world. Practice shows the contrary though; one can demonstrate the validity of the phenomenon in various areas, ranging from chaos theory and physics to economics and even ecology. In this lively treatise, based on Chaitin's groundbreaking work and on the da Costa-Doria results in physics, ecology, economics and computer science, the authors show that the Gödel incompleteness phenomenon can directly bear on the practice of science and perhaps on our everyday life. This accessible book gives a new, detailed and elementary explanation of the Gödel incompleteness theorems and presents the Chaitin results and their relation to the da Costa-Doria results, which are given in full, but with no technicalities. Besides theory, the historical report and personal stories about the main character and on this book's writing process, make it appealing leisure reading for those interested in mathematics, logic, physics, philosophy and computer sciences. Bio/pics - George Frederick Custen 1992

Bio/Pics is the first comprehensive study of a once important film genre, the biographical film. Using previously unavailable archival materials from Twentieth Century-Fox, Warner Bros., MGM, and RKO studios, as well as censorship files from the Production Code Administration, George Custen argues that, through these films, Hollywood manufactured a nearly monochromatic view of history that was systematically distorted in regard to race, gender, nationality, and profession. Employing a carefully selected sample of over one hundred films produced during the studio era (1927-1960), Custen maintains that the biopic constructed a Hollywood code of history out of a tightly controlled reference system, glamorizing the producers' own personal visions of what constituted a great life. Custen's examination of production practices reveals that the machinery of public history operating through these films was fueled by different textual and intertextual sources; Hollywood's model of history was derived from recycled plots played out on its back lots and sound stages, and not from the world outside the studio walls. His analysis of the roles played by star personae, legal considerations, censorship practices, and the producers' own ideologies brings the world of the biopic alive, even into the age of the made-for-TV movie.

Cosa ci può insegnare sulla leadership don Chisciotte, santo patrono dei resilienti, indomabile paladino della quasi-vittoria? E chi, come lui, non ha desiderato diventare cavaliere? Vivere mille avventure, stupire gli altri, venire ricompensato da fama, essere portatore di grandi ideali e valori. Che fine ha fatto questo sogno? Si fa in fretta a etichettare pazzo chi crede... e chi è più sognatore del don? Uno che è uscito fuori di senno, che ha iniziato a vedere attorno a sé la bellezza. Che mette in discussione la "verità" del mondo. Il don ha una visione, che lo fa mettere in viaggio con ronzino e scudiero, diretto sempre oltre. Anche per noi è possibile diventare protagonisti insuccesso dopo insuccesso. Conservare gli ideali quando tutto attorno crolla. Prendere in mano il proprio talento. E per citare Will Eisner, non importa se don Chisciotte sia esistito veramente, quello che conta è che sia esistito il suo sogno!

Epicurus' Ethical Theory - Phillip Mitsis 1988

It is my contention that the table of intentionality (rationality, mind, thought, language, personality etc.) that features prominently here describes more or less accurately, or at least serves as an heuristic for, how we think and behave, and so it encompasses not merely philosophy and psychology, but everything else (history, literature, mathematics, politics etc.). Note especially that intentionality and rationality as I (along with Searle, Wittgenstein and others) view it, includes both conscious deliberative linguistic System 2 and unconscious automated prelinguistic System 1 actions or reflexes. I provide a critical survey of some of the major findings of two of the most eminent students of behavior of modern times, Ludwig Wittgenstein and John Searle, on the logical structure of intentionality (mind, language, behavior), taking as my starting point Wittgenstein's fundamental discovery - that all truly 'philosophical' problems are the same-confusions about how to use language in a particular context, and so all solutions are the same-looking at how language can be used in the context at issue so that its truth conditions (Conditions of Satisfaction or COS) are clear. The basic problem is that one can say anything but one cannot mean (state clear COS for) any arbitrary utterance and meaning is only possible in a very specific context. I analyze various writings by and about them from the modern perspective of the two systems of thought (popularized as 'thinking fast, thinking slow'), employing a new table of intentionality and new dual systems nomenclature. I show that this is a powerful heuristic for describing behavior. Thus, all behavior is intimately connected if one takes the correct viewpoint. The Phenomenological Illusion (oblivion to our automated System 1) is universal and extends not merely throughout philosophy but throughout life. I am sure that Chomsky, Obama, Zuckerberg and the Pope would be incredulous if told that they suffer from the same problem as Hegel, Husserl and Heidegger, (or that that they differ only in degree from drug and sex addicts in being motivated by stimulation of their frontal cortices by the delivery of dopamine (and over 100 other chemicals) via the ventral tegmentum and the nucleus accumbens), but it's clearly true. While the phenomenologists only wasted a lot of people's time, they are wasting the earth and their descendant's future.

The Myth of Analysis - James Hillman 1997

In this work, acclaimed Jungian James Hillman examines the concepts of myth, insights, eros, body, and the mytheme of female inferiority, as well as the need for the freedom to imagine and to feel psychic reality. By examining these ideas, and the role they have played both in and outside of the therapeutic setting, Hillman mounts a compelling argument that, rather than locking them away in some inner asylum or subjecting them to daily self-treatment, man's "peculiarities" can become an integral part of a rich and fulfilling daily life. Originally published by Northwestern University Press in 1972, this work had a profound impact on a nation emerging self-aware from the 1960s, as well as on the era's burgeoning feminist movement. It remains a profound critique of therapy and the psychological viewpoint, and it is one of Hillman's most important and enduring works.

Moving Data - Pelle Snickars

The iPhone has revolutionized not only how people communicate but also how we consume and produce culture. Combining traditional and social media with mobile connectivity, smartphones have redefined and expanded the dimensions of everyday life, allowing individuals to personalize media as they move and process constant flows of data. Today, millions of consumers love and live by their iPhones, but what are the implications of its special technology on society, media, and culture? Featuring an eclectic mix of original essays, Moving Data explores the iPhone as technological prototype, lifestyle gadget, and platform for media creativity. Media experts, cultural critics, and scholars consider the device's newness and usability—even its "lickability"—and its "biographical" story. The book illuminates patterns of consumption; the fate of solitude against smartphone ubiquity; the economy of the App Store and its perceived "crisis of choice"; and the distance between the accessibility of digital information and the protocols governing its use. Alternating between critical and conceptual analyses, essays link the design of participatory media to the iPhone's technological features and sharing routines, and they follow the extent to which the pleasures of gesture-based interfaces are redefining media use and sensory experience. They also consider how user-led innovations, collaborative mapping, and creative empowerment are understood and reconciled through changes in mobile surveillance, personal rights, and prescriptive social software. Presenting a range of perspectives and arguments, this book reorients the practice and study of media critique.

The Outer Limits of Reason - Noson S. Yanofsky 2016-11-04

An exploration of the scientific limits of knowledge that challenges our deep-seated beliefs about our universe, our rationality, and ourselves.

Many books explain what is known about the universe. This book investigates what cannot be known. Rather than exploring the amazing facts that science, mathematics, and reason have revealed to us, this work studies what science, mathematics, and reason tell us cannot be revealed. In The Outer Limits of Reason, Noson Yanofsky considers what cannot be predicted, described, or known, and what will never be understood. He discusses the limitations of computers, physics, logic, and our own thought processes. Yanofsky describes simple tasks that would take computers trillions of centuries to complete and other problems that computers can never solve; perfectly formed English sentences that make no sense; different levels of infinity; the bizarre world of the quantum; the relevance of relativity theory; the causes of chaos theory; math problems that cannot be solved by normal means; and statements that are true but cannot be proven. He explains the limitations of our intuitions about the world—our ideas about space, time, and motion, and the complex relationship between the knower and the known. Moving from the concrete to the abstract, from problems of everyday language to straightforward philosophical questions to the formalities of physics and mathematics, Yanofsky demonstrates a myriad of unsolvable problems and paradoxes. Exploring the various limitations of our knowledge, he shows that many of these limitations have a similar pattern and that by investigating these patterns, we can better understand the structure and limitations of reason itself. Yanofsky even attempts to look beyond the borders of reason to see what, if anything, is out there.

The Idea of Justice - Amartya Kumar Sen 2009-09-30

Social justice: an ideal, forever beyond our grasp; or one of many practical possibilities? More than a matter of intellectual discourse, the idea of justice plays a real role in how - and how well - people live. And in this book the distinguished scholar Amartya Sen offers a powerful critique of the theory of social justice that, in its grip on social and political thinking, has long left practical realities far behind.

Delitti senza castigo - Fabrizio Borin

Un altro libro su Woody Allen? E perché no? Così avrebbe potuto rispondere il regista americano a chi gli avesse chiesto: un altro fim comico? Un'altra commedia? Un'altra commedia amara? Un altro film intimistico o drammatico? Un'altra favola magica? Un'altra rivisitazione dei generi? Un'altra autobiografia in maschera? Con le debite proporzioni, questo non è un nuovo libro sull'intero cinema di Allen, è l'analisi dei film drammatici, dei suoi delitti senza castigo, insieme alle suggestioni del cineasta per la magia, le illusioni, i trucchi, indissolubilmente connessi alle pratiche delittuose dell'occultamento. Entrare nel cinema dei delitti-senza-castigo insieme a quello della magia-del-falso/vero di Woody Allen è come fare un viaggio, anche etico, nell'ironia dell'inconscio: la realtà si misura con l'illusione dell'Immaginario restituendo una piacevole inquietudine, esaltata dall'arte geniale della sua narrazione visiva, che aiuta ad accettare di vivere nel cinismo irrazionale del tempo presente, anche con qualche impunita cicatrice morale.

The Development of Greek Biography - Arnaldo

Momigliano 1993

Arnaldo Momigliano traces the growth of ancient biography from the fifth century to the first century B.C. He asks new questions about the origins and development of Greek biography, and makes full use of new evidence uncovered in recent decades from papyri and other sources. By clarifying the social and intellectual implication of the fact that the Greeks kept biography and autobiography distinct from historiography, he contributes to an understanding of a basic dichotomy in the Western tradition of historical writing. The Development of Greek Biography is fully annotated, and includes a bibliography designed to serve as an introduction to the study of biography in general.

Religious Conversion and Identity - Massimo Leone
2004-06-01

The way in which people change and represent their spiritual evolution is often determined by recurrent language structures. Through the analysis of ancient and modern stories and their words and images, this book describes the nature of conversion through explorations of the encounter with the religious message, the discomfort of spiritual uncertainty, the loss of personal and social identity, the anxiety of destabilization, the reconstitution of the self and the discovery of a new language of the soul.

Bauman - Izabela Wagner

Global thinker, public intellectual and world-famous theorist of 'liquid modernity', Zygmunt Bauman (1925-2017) was a scholar who, despite forced migration, built a very successful academic career and, after retirement, became a prolific and popular writer and an intellectual talisman for young people everywhere. He was one of those rare scholars who, grey-haired and in his eighties, had his finger on the pulse of the youth. This is the first comprehensive biography of Bauman's life and work.

Izabela Wagner returns to Bauman's native Poland and recounts his childhood in an assimilated Polish Jewish family and the school experiences shaped by anti-Semitism. Bauman's life trajectory is typical of his generation and social group: the escape from Nazi occupation and Soviet secondary education, communist engagement, enrolment in the Polish Army as a political officer, participation in the WW II and the support for the new political regime in the post-war Poland. Wagner sheds new light on the post-war period and Bauman's activity as a KBW political officer. His eviction in 1953 from the military ranks and his academic career reflect the dynamic context of Poland in 1950s and 1960s. His professional career in Poland was abruptly halted in 1968 by the anti-Semitic purges. Bauman became a refugee again - leaving Poland for Israel, and then settling down in Leeds in the UK in 1971. His work would flourish in Leeds, and after his retirement in 1991 he entered a period of enormous productivity which propelled him onto the international stage as one of the most widely read and influential social thinkers of our time. Wagner's biography brings out the complex connections between Bauman's life experiences and his work, showing how his trajectory as an 'outsider' forced into exile by the anti-Semitic purges in Poland has shaped his thinking over time. Her careful and thorough account will be the standard biography of Bauman's life and work for years to come.

Contemporary World Interiors - Susan Yelavich
2007-06-26

Similar in format to Phaidon's Contemporary World Architecture, Contemporary World Interiors is a thorough survey of the current state of international interior design, presenting some 450 projects around the world completed within the past 25 years. Organized by category into 11 chapters, the book goes far beyond the traditional emphasis on residences and commercial spaces to include religious interiors, performance halls and cultural centers, civic spaces, restaurants, and hospitals and therapeutic spaces, among others. Each chapter is heavily illustrated with color photographs and plans reproduced at a generous size. In its variety and scope, the book depicts the expanding purview and impact of the interior designer, product designer, decorator and, of course, architect, as well as the public's growing fascination with, and investment in, the designed interior.

The Murderer Next Door -

David M. Buss 2006-04-25

As acclaimed psychological researcher and author David Buss writes, "People are mesmerized by murder. It commands our attention like no other human phenomenon, and those touched by its ugly tendrils never forget." Though we may like to believe that murderers are pathological misfits and hardened criminals, the vast majority of murders are committed by people who, until the day they kill, would seem to be perfectly normal. David Buss's pioneering work has made major national news in the past, and this provocative book is sure to generate a storm of attention. The Murderer Next Door is a riveting look into the dark underworld of the human psyche—an astonishing exploration of when and why we kill and what might push any one of us over the edge. A leader in the innovative field of evolutionary psychology, Buss conducted an unprecedented set of studies investigating the underlying motives and circumstances of murders, from the bizarre outlier cases of serial killers to those of the friendly next-door neighbor who one day kills his wife. Reporting on findings that are often startling and counterintuitive—the younger woman involved in a love triangle is at a high risk of being killed—he puts forth a bold new general theory of homicide, arguing that the human psyche has evolved specialized adaptations whose function is to kill. Taking readers through the surprising twists and turns of the evolutionary logic of murder, he explains exactly when each of us is most at risk, both of being murdered and of becoming a murderer. His findings about the high-risk situations alone will be news making. Featuring gripping storytelling about specific murder cases—including a never used FBI file of more than 400,000 murders and a highly detailed study of 400 murders conducted by Buss in collaboration with a forensic psychiatrist, and a pioneering investigation of homicidal fantasies in which Buss found that 91 percent of men and 84 percent of women have had at least one such vivid fantasy—The Murderer Next Door will be necessary reading for those who have been fascinated by books on profiling, lovers of true crime and murder mysteries, as well as readers intrigued by the inner workings of the human mind.

Wittgenstein's Metaphilosophy

- Paul Horwich 2012-12-13
Paul Horwich presents a bold new interpretation of Wittgenstein's later work. He argues that it is Wittgenstein's radically anti-theoretical metaphilosophy - and not his identification of the meaning of a word with its use - that underpins his discussions of specific issues concerning language, the mind, mathematics, knowledge, art, and religion.

Tutto quello che Socrate direbbe a Woody Allen.

Cinema e filosofia - Juan Antonio Rivera 2005

Seinfeld and Philosophy - William Irwin 2010-08

How is Jerry like Socrates? Is it rational for George to "do the opposite?" Would Simone de Beauvoir say that Elaine is a feminist? Is Kramer stuck in Kierkegaard's aesthetic stage? Seinfeld and Philosophy is both an enlightening look at the most popular sitcom of the decade and an entertaining introduction to philosophy via Seinfeld's plots and characters. These fourteen essays, which explore the ideas of Plato, Aristotle, Lao-Tzu, Heidegger, Kant, Marx, Kierkegaard, Nietzsche, Sartre, and Wittgenstein, will show readers how to be masters of their philosophical domain.
