Our Skin: A First Conversation About Race - Megan Madison 2021-03-16

Based on the research that race, gender, consent, and body positivity should be discussed with toddlers on up, this read-aloud board book series offers adults the opportunity to begin important conversations with young children in an informed, safe, and supported way. Developed by experts in the fields of early childhood and activism against injustice, this topic-driven board book offers clear, concrete language and beautiful imagery that young children can grasp and adults can leverage for further discussion. While young children are avid observers and questioners of their world, adults often shut down or postpone conversations on complicated topics because it's hard to know where to begin. Research shows that talking about issues like race and gender from the age of two not only helps children understand what they see, but also increases self-awareness, self-esteem, and allows them to recognize and confront things that are unfair, like discrimination and prejudice. This first book in the series begins the conversation on race, with a supportive approach that considers both the child and the adult. Stunning art accompanies the simple and interactive text, and the backmatter offers additional resources and ideas for extending this discussion.

Faith, Hope and Carnage - Nick Cave 2022-09-20

Faith, Hope and Carnage is a meditation on faith, art, music, freedom, grief and love. Created from more than forty hours of intimate conversations with Seán O'Hagan, it is a profoundly thoughtful exploration, in Cave's own words, of what really drives his life and creativity. The book examines questions of faith, art, music, freedom, grief, and love. It draws candidly on Cave's life, from his early childhood to the present day, his loves, his work ethic, and his dramatic transformation in recent years. From a place of considered reflection, Faith, Hope and Carnage offers ladders of hope and inspiration from a true creative visionary.

In My Grandmother's House - Yolanda Pierce 2021-02-16

What if the most steadfast faith you'll ever encounter comes from a Black grandmother? The church mothers who raised Yolanda Pierce, dean of Howard University School of Divinity, were busily focused on her survival. In a world hostile to Black women's bodies and spirits, they had to be. Born on a former cotton plantation and having fled the terrors of the South, Pierce's grandmother raised her in the faith inherited from those who were enslaved. Now, in the pages of In My Grandmother's House, Pierce reckons with that tradition, building an everyday womanist theology rooted in liberating scriptures, experiences in the Black church, and truths from Black women's lives. Pierce tells stories that center the experiences of those living on the underside of history, teasing out the tensions of race, spirituality, trauma, freedom, resistance, and memory. A grandmother's theology carries wisdom strong enough for future generations. The Divine has been showing up at the kitchen tables of Black women for a long time. It's time to get to know that God.

The Catholic Gentleman - Sam Guzman 2019-04-24

What it means to be a man or a woman is questioned today like never before. While traditional gender roles have been eroding for decades, now the very categories of male and female are being discarded with reckless abandon. How does one act like a gentleman in such confusing times? The Catholic Gentleman is a solid and practical guide to virtuous manhood. It turns to the timeless wisdom of the Catholic Church to answer the important questions men are currently asking. In short, easy-to-read chapters, the author offers pithy insights on a variety of topics, including • How to know you are an authentic man • Why our bodies matter • The value of tradition • The purpose of courtesy • What real holiness is and how to achieve it • How to deal with failure in the spiritual life

All Kinds of Beliefs - Anita Ganeri 2020

People hold all kinds of beliefs. We may be Buddhists, Christians, Hindus, Jews, Muslims, or Sikhs, or belong to other religions. Some people have non-religious beliefs. We can show what we believe by how we dress, what we eat, how we behave, and how we treat other people. What are your beliefs?

A Twist of Faith - Pepper Basham 2016-04-06

Will a wager against her future steal her chance at true love? "Basham weaves a unique tale sure to please the romantic at heart." Denise Hunter, bestselling author of "Married 'til Monday" Dr. Adelina Roseland has worked ten years in research as an accent reduction specialist to attain her dream job. But a secret wager to transform Appalachian cattle farmer Reese Mitchell into corporate material challenges Adelina in ways she never expected, threatening her new position. For one, Adelina didn't plan for the faith and friction of Reese, or the unexpected influence of his chaotic family. Now, drawn into a culture she'd tried to forget, Adelina finds the warmth of family, the hope of faith, and the joy of love melting away the deep wounds of her past. But when Reese discovers that he's a pawn in her climb up the academic ladder, will he forgive Adelina's deceit or will their miscommunication end in two broken lives? Give a gift copy to a friend and recommend "A Twist of Faith" to your bookclub.

I Hate Campaign Hats - Randall Stevens 2021-02-25

Randall Stevens in 1966 was a wide-eyed, naive boy still a year away from being able to claim adulthood at that magic age of twenty-one. Having come up with the idea to join one of the best state police organizations in the nation, he began the journey to become a Massachusetts State Police Trooper. If anyone assumes this to be the telling of a strict, tedious, dull, or uninteresting police employment process, they would be very wrong. The determination, ingenuity, silliness, and near lunacy mixed with glimpses of courage and boldness, not expected from a boy so young, lends itself to a show all its own, which continues as you turn the pages. These narratives will strike all your emotions. You will laugh and feel good. You'll feel sad and maybe cry. There's vindication, fear, and trepidation. You'll peer deep into an officer's marriage and personal life. Most importantly, you'll see a different side of police, not often revealed, and meet different characters, good and bad, who all played a part molding the boy into a man.

Faith and Fear in Flushing - Greg W. Prince 2009-04

A lighthearted account of fan culture surrounding the New York baseball franchise, written by the creator of the popular Mets blog by the same title, address the unique qualities of the team's fandom while covering such topics as their history-making 1969 season, their 1986 comeback, and their transition from Shea Stadium to Citi Field.

The Man Who Mistook His Wife for a Hat - Oliver Sacks 2021-09-14

In his most extraordinary book, the bestselling author of Awakenings and "poet laureate of medicine" (The New York Times) recounts the case histories of patients inhabiting the compelling world of neurological disorders, from those who are no longer able to recognize common objects to those who gain extraordinary new skills. Featuring a new preface, Oliver Sacks's The Man Who Mistook His Wife for a Hat tells the stories of individuals afflicted with perceptual and intellectual disorders: patients who have lost their memories and with them the greater part of their pasts; who are no longer able to recognize people and common objects; whose limbs seem alien to them; who lack some skills yet are gifted with uncanny artistic or mathematical talents. In Dr. Sacks's splendid and sympathetic telling, his patients are deeply human and his tales are studies of struggles against incredible adversity. A great healer, Sacks never loses sight of the medicine's ultimate responsibility: "the suffering, afflicted, fighting human subject."

White Coat, Black Hat - Carl Elliott 2011-09-13

By New Yorker and Atlantic writer Carl Elliott, a readable and even funny account of the serious business of medicine. A tongue-in-cheek account of the changes that have transformed medicine into big business. Physician and medical ethicist Carl Elliott tracks the new world of commercialized medicine from start to finish, introducing the professional guinea pigs, ghostwriters, thought leaders, drug reps, public relations pros, and even medical ethicists who use medicine for (sometimes huge) financial gain. Along the way, he uncovers the cost to patients lost in a health-care universe centered around consumerism.

That's Not What Happened - Kody Keplinger 2018-08-28

From New York Times bestseller Kody Keplinger comes an astonishing and thought-provoking exploration of the aftermath of tragedy, the power of narrative, and how we remember what we've lost. It's been three years since the Virgil County High School Massacre. Three years since my best friend, Sarah, was killed in a bathroom stall during the mass shooting. Everyone knows Sarah's story--that she died proclaiming her faith. But it's not true. I know because I was with her when she died. I didn't say anything then, and people got hurt because of it. Now Sarah's parents are publishing a book about her, so this might be my last chance to set the record straight . . . but I'm not the only survivor with a story to tell about what did--and didn't--happen that day. Except Sarah's martyrdom is important to a lot of people, people who don't take kindly to what I'm trying to do. And the more I learn, the less certain I am about what's right. I don't know what will be worse: the guilt of staying silent or the consequences of speaking up . . .

Kiki's Hats - Warren Hanson 2007

An epistolary novel set on a fictional island off the South Carolina coastline, 'Ella Minnow Pea' brings readers to the hometown of Nevin Nollop, inventor of the pangram 'The Quick Brown Fox Jumps Over the Lazy Dog'. Deified for his achievement in life, Nevin has been honored in death with a monument featuring his famous phrase. One day, however, the letter 'Z' falls from the monument, and some of the islanders interpret the missing tile as a message from beyond the grave. The letter 'Z' is banned from use. On an island where the residents pride themselves on their love of language, this is seen as a tragedy. They are still reeling from the shock when another tile falls. And then another... In his charming debut, first published in 2001, Mark Dunn took readers on a journey through the eyes of Ella Minnow Pea, a young woman forced to create another clever turn of phrase in order to save the islanders' beloved language.

Web of Faith - Fr. John Trigilio 2021-05-01

It is an insightful guidebook that encourages hope and inspires Faith!

Thank You for My Service - Mat Best 2019-08-20

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER • The unapologetic, laugh-your-ass-off military memoir both vets and civilians have been waiting for, from a five-tour Army Ranger turned YouTube phenomenon and zealous advocate for veterans Members of the military's special operations branches share a closely guarded secret: They love their jobs. They relish the opportunity to fight. They are thankful for it, even, and hopeful that maybe, possibly, they'll also get to kill a bunch of bad guys while they're at it. You don't necessarily need to thank them for their service—the pleasure is all theirs. In this hilarious and personal memoir, readers ride shotgun alongside former Army Ranger and private military contractor and current social media phenomenon Mat Best, into the action and its aftermath, both abroad and at home. From surviving a skin infection in the swampy armpit of America (aka Columbus, Georgia) to kicking down doors on the outskirts of Ramadi, from blowing up a truck full of enemy combatants to witnessing the effects of a suicide bombing right in front of your face, Thank You for My Service gives readers who love America and love the good guys fresh insight into what it's really like inside the minds of the men and women on the front lines. It's also a sobering yet steadying glimpse at life for veterans after the fighting stops, when the enemy becomes self-doubt or despair and you begin to wonder why anyone should be thanking you for anything, least of all your service. How do you keep going when something you love turns you into somebody you hate? For veterans and their friends and families, Thank You for My Service will offer comfort, in the form of a million laughs, and counsel, as a blueprint for what to do after the war ends and the real fight begins. And for civilians, this is the insider account of military life you won't find anywhere else, told with equal amounts of heart and balls. It's Deadpool meets Captain America, except one went to business school and one went to therapy, and it's anyone's guess which is which.

A Cat, a Hat and a Piece of String - Joanne Harris 2014

A second short story collection from Joanne Harris, author of Chocolat and Peaches for Monsieur le Cure. Stories are like Russian dolls; open them up, and in each one you'll find another story.' Conjured from a wickedly imaginative pen, here is a new collection of short stories that showcases Joanne Harris's exceptional storytelling art.

Faith, Hope, Love, and Chocolate - Cari Schaeffer 2014-05-22

Run, run, run... Run away. That's what Faith Strauss has done for twenty years. She was destroyed by one tragic event. An event so horrific, she didn't share it with anyone, not even her husband. She buried it deep inside, where it can't hurt anyone. If God is good, then where was He? Why didn't He stop it? How can she trust Him ever again? Run, run, run... She's not good enough. Never has been. Never will be. She could lose it all again, if she's not careful. She married, had children, and carved out a life for herself. But Fear is her ever-present companion, always reminding her never to reach too far, or too high. Run, run, run... God has another plan. A plan that she never saw, even though she has walked it her entire life. Will the unexpected exposure of her secret and the truth behind it restore her or destroy her all over again? It's time to stop running.

Faith, Farming, and Family - Caitlin Henderson 2022-02-01

A young farmer's wife draws on her life with kids, cows, and a front-porch view to help us see God's goodness and beauty wherever we are, reminding us that the simple life is not a place to be but a way to be. "Grab a cup of coffee and join Caitlin on her porch to hear the lessons God has taught her through the good and hard of everyday life."—Vivian Mabuni, speaker and author of Open Hands, Willing Heart: Discover the Joy of Saying Yes to God When Caitlin, a small-town girl, fell in love with a farm boy named Jake Henderson, she had little idea what farm life—or marriage and motherhood—would bring. But raising a family on a farm is teaching her more about God's goodness and grace than she could have imagined. Faith, Farming, and Family is a rich, story-filled walk through farmhouse hallways, harvest-ready fields, and God's bountiful dreams for our lives. As Caitlin reflects on everything from wayward tractors to watching a marriage grow from surviving to flourishing, she reminds us to see the redemption in our own stories. Join Caitlin in exploring biblical truth through the eyes of a farmer's wife, whether you are wrangling kids onto a school bus, sowing creative seeds in a business meeting, or walking the pastures of your own family farm. Faith, Farming, and Family invites us to recognize God's beauty right in front of us so that we might find the courage to take the next step—or the first step—into His incredible calling.

The Purification Season - Natasha Lambkin 2021-01-26

Have you ever felt that you were stuck in between two seasons? You came out of one season and you are transitioning to the next one. These in between seasons are moments where God is pulling out all of the impurities. He is making sure you don't carry over any leftovers from your past season. He is refining and purifying you. However, even though you are "in between seasons," it's still indeed a season that you are in. It is called "The Purification Season." Welcome! Brooklyn Native, Natasha Lambkin is the CEO and Founder of the Faith-Based Lifestyle Brand, Tashee Inc. Following her Undergrad at Fashion Institute of Technology in New York, she pursued a professional modeling career. During the peak of her career, Natasha developed a closer relationship to Jesus. At the ending of the year 2012, Natasha was experiencing a personal conviction of immodesty. She felt a need to adapt more of a Christ-like way of living. As a result, she left the Modeling industry and pursued a career in Fashion. While working corporately for a major fashion company, she had an epiphany from God to pursue her own clothing line-as a faith-based company that promotes modesty in fashion. With her professional experience as a Model, Fashion Buyer, and Merchandiser; she was led to pursue her business full-time. Tashee Inc., is now a lifestyle brand that encompasses faith, fashion, media, and philanthropy. Under the parent brand are two sub-segmented businesses, N A T A S H A (the luxury clothing brand) and A FILM by NATASHA LAMBKIN. Now Natasha, has become a published author. She has created the first Faith-Based Fashion Story book in history, "The Purification Season." Her collections always told a story, now one of her stories has been birthed within this book.

Helping Hats - Regina C. Brown 2021-09-09

Have you thought about how early farmers get out of bed to start feeding their animals? What about the ongoing training our firefighters perform? And we could never get by as well without our caring and dedicated doctors and nurses! There are so many different community helpers with jobs that may go unappreciated on a daily basis. These helpers are truly our heroes, providing vital needs to all communities and asking very little in return. The main character, Dan, and his perky little canine friend, explore community jobs in a winsome way. Helping Hats seeks to open eyes and hearts of young readers. They will learn about careers that affect their lives and learn to appreciate the hard work and dedication that's involved with each job. They may even have relatives whom they can identify as a "helper," which may become personal to them.

Going Cowboy Crazy - Katie Lane 2011-05-01

USA Today bestselling author Katie Lane welcomes you to the small town of Bramble, where you will fall in love with "handsome cowboys with hearts as big as Texas" (Lori Wilde, New York Times bestselling author). Faith Aldridge wants answers. Bramble, Texas is the only place she can find them . . . as well as Hope, the identical twin sister she never knew she had. But the townsfolk reckon that shy city-girl Faith is really her long-lost sister Hope, back in Bramble at last. And they're fixin' to do whatever it takes to heat things up between her and Hope's long-time flame, Slate Calhoun. If that means rustling her car, spreading rumors like wildfire, and reining in some explosive secrets, well, there's no way like the Lone Star way . . . But Slate's no fool. The woman in his truck may look like Hope, yet the way she feels in his arms is altogether new. He's determined to keep this twin in his bed and out of his heart. Trouble is, the real Hope is headed home, and she's got her own designs on Slate. If Faith wants to avoid heartbreak, she'll have to show a certain ruggedly handsome cowboy that this crazy-impossible love is worth fighting for.

Rainbow Hat - 2021-06

The 500 Hats of a Modern-Day Woman - Joyce K. Ellis 2003-04-01

Hat-Juggling 101 Every modern-day woman has more roles than she ever thought she would need to manage. Whether you are married or single, the demands of our fast-paced age are often overwhelming. Isn't there someplace you could go to learn the art of juggling so many hats? Let Joyce Ellis help you. She is a master hat juggler, and one of her roles is that of lighthearted mentor for overwhelmed women. Her qualifications include being a wife, the mother of three young adults, a popular public speaker, and the author, co-author, or ghostwriter of many books, articles, and short stories.

Courage Hats - Kate Hoefler 2022-03-22

What if the Cowardly Lion took a leap of faith? A story of courage, determination, and a dash of friendship. Courage is something that comes from your heart. But if you can't find it there, you can wear it on your head at first. Mae is a girl. Bear is a bear. But over the course of one life-changing, slightly nerve-racking train ride, they find out that this might be the only thing they don't have in common. Kate Hoefler's signature lyricism and Jessixa Bagley's sweetly wry art combine for a gently whimsical, people (and bear) pleaser of a story about the fear of being different, the ways we overcome this fear, and the fact that often what's different is a lot more familiar than we might think. With courage, determination, and a dash of friendship, Mae and Bear discover all the humor, warmth, and beauty found in togetherness and in the unknown. IMPORTANT THEMES: This sweet, moving story about new experiences is just right for kids facing the first day of school or a big move, but it's also more broadly about the importance of courage, trying things that scare you, making new friends, the beauty and importance of diversity, and dealing with the feeling of being an outsider. TEACHES KINDNESS AND EMPATHY: This book emphasizes the importance of kindness, courage, empathy, and friendship. It's a perfect classroom or library read-aloud, as kids will be excited to share their own experiences of trying new things and discussing things that scare them. BE BRAVE: It's all too common for kids to feel like outsiders at school, at camp, or anywhere else. This book shows it's okay to be different—and that trying new things is worth it, even when they seem scary or unfamiliar. SWEET ILLUSTRATIONS: Fall in love with these adorable characters, portrayed with humor and sweetness by illustrator Jessixa Bagley! Perfect for: • Parents and caregivers • Teachers and librarians • Anyone looking for an empathy read • Kids moving to new schools or houses • Parents encouraging kids to be brave in the face of new experiences • Fans of unlikely friendship stories
