Compasito - Nancy Flowers 2007-01-01

Living among other people, in their families and communities, children become aware from a very early age of questions related to justice, and they search for the meaning of the world. By fostering an understanding of human rights, shaping opinion and developing attitudes, human rights education strongly supports this natural interest and learning process. This is what human rights education is about and this is what 'Compasito manual on human rights education for children' is for. 'Compasito' is a starting point for educators, teachers and trainers who are ready to deal with human rights education with children of 7-13 years. The book covers the key concepts of human rights and children's rights, and provides substantial theoretical background to 13 key human rights issues, such as democracy, citizenship, gender equality, environment, media, poverty, and violence. The 42 practical activities serve to engage and motivate children to recognise human rights issues in their own environment. They help children to develop critical thinking, responsibility and a sense of justice, and help them learn how to take action to contribute to the betterment of their school or community. The manual also gives practical tips on how it can be used in various formal and non-formal educational settings.

"Within a day of receiving this book, I had consumed it... Absorbing, moving, and compulsively readable."—Lydia Davis In this affectionate, heart-warming chronicle, Rosamund Young distills a lifetime of organic farming wisdom, describing the surprising personalities of her cows and other animals At her famous Kite's Nest Farm in Worcestershire, England, the cows (as well as sheep, hens, and pigs) all roam free. They make their own choices about rearing, grazing, and housing. Left to be themselves, the cows exhibit temperaments and interests as diverse as our own. "Fat Hat" prefers men to women; "Chippy Minton" refuses to sleep with muddy legs and always reports to the barn for grooming before bed; "Jake" has a thing for sniffing the carbon monoxide fumes of the Land Rover exhaust pipe; and "Gemima" greets all humans with an angry shake of the head and is fiercely independent. An organic farmer for decades, Young has an unaffected and homely voice. Her prose brims with genuine devotion to the wellbeing of animals. Most of us never apprehend the various inner lives animals possess, least of all those that we might eat. But Young has spent countless hours observing how these creatures love, play games, and form life-long friendships. She imparts hard-won wisdom about the both moral and real-world benefits of organic farming. (If preserving the dignity of animals isn't a good enough reason for you, consider how badly factory farming stunts the growth of animals, producing unhealthy and tasteless food.) This gorgeously-illustrated book, which includes an original introduction by the legendary British playwright Alan Bennett, is the summation of a life's work, and a delightful and moving tribute to the deep richness of animal sentience.

The Vertical of the Role - Jurij Alschitz 2003

The Spark - Kristine Barnett 2013-04-09

Kristine Barnett's son Jacob has an IQ higher than Einstein's, a photographic memory, and he taught himself calculus in two weeks. At nine he started working on an original theory in astrophysics that experts believe may someday put him in line for a Nobel Prize, and at age twelve he became a paid researcher in quantum physics. But the story of Kristine's journey with Jake is all the more remarkable because his extraordinary mind was almost lost to autism. At age two, when Jake was diagnosed, Kristine was told he might never be able to tie his own shoes. The Spark is a remarkable memoir of mother and son. Surrounded by "experts" at home and in special ed who tried to focus on Jake's most basic skills and curtail his distracting interests—moving shadows on the wall, stars, plaid patterns on sofa fabric—Jake made no progress, withdrew more and more into his own world, and eventually stopped talking completely. Kristine knew in her heart that she had to make a change. Against the advice of her husband, Michael, and the developmental specialists, Kristine followed her instincts, pulled Jake out of special ed, and began preparing him for mainstream kindergarten on her own. Relying on the insights she developed at the daycare center she runs out of the garage in her home, Kristine resolved to follow Jacob's "spark"—his passionate interests. Why concentrate on what he couldn't do? Why not focus on what he could? This basic philosophy, along with her belief in the power of ordinary childhood experiences (softball, picnics, s'mores around the campfire) and the importance of play, helped Kristine overcome huge odds. The Barnetts were not wealthy people, and in addition to financial hardship, Kristine herself faced serious health issues. But through hard work and determination on behalf of Jake and his two younger brothers, as well as an undying faith in their community, friends, and family, Kristine and Michael prevailed. The results were beyond anything anyone could have imagined. Dramatic, inspiring, and transformative, The Spark is about the power of love and courage in the face of overwhelming obstacles, and the dazzling possibilities that can occur when we learn how to tap the true potential that lies within every child, and in all of us. Praise for The Spark "[An] amazing memoir . . . compulsive reading."—The Washington Post "The Spark is about the transformative power of unconditional love. If you have a child who's 'different'—and who doesn't?—you won't be able to put it down."—Sylvia Nasar, author of A Beautiful Mind "Love, illness, faith, tragedy and triumph—it's all here. . . . Jake Barnett's story contains wisdom for every parent."—Newsday "This eloquent memoir about an extraordinary boy and a resilient and remarkable mother will be of interest to every parent and/or educator hoping to nurture a child's authentic 'spark.'"—Publishers Weekly "Compelling . . . Jake is unusual, but so is his superhuman mom."—Booklist "The Spark describes in glowing terms the profound intensity with which a mother can love her child."—Andrew Solomon, author of The Noonday Demon and Far from the Tree "Every parent and teacher should read this fabulous book!”—Temple Grandin, author of Thinking in Pictures and co-author of The Autistic Brain

The King Must Die - Mary Renault 2013-09-10

New York Times Bestseller: This retelling of the Greek myth of Theseus, king of Athens, is “one of the truly fine historical novels of modern times” (The New York Times). In myth, Theseus was the slayer of the child-devouring Minotaur in Crete. What the founder-hero might have been in real life is another question, brilliantly explored in The King Must Die. Drawing on modern scholarship and archaeological findings at Knossos, Mary Renault's Theseus is an utterly lifelike figure—a king of immense charisma, whose boundless strivings flow from strength and weakness—but also one steered by implacable prophecy. The story follows Theseus's adventures from Troizen to Eleusis, where the death in the book's title is to take place, and from Athens to Crete, where he learns to jump bulls and is named king of the victims. Richly imbued with the spirit of its time, this is a page-turner as well as a daring act of imagination. Renault's story of Theseus continues with the sequel The Bull from the Sea. This ebook features an illustrated biography of Mary Renault including rare images of the author.

Un itinerario lungo la storia della scienza e dell'istruzione femminile restituisce alla memoria cento scienziate tenute in ombra per secoli: le matematiche Maria Gaetana Agnesi, Emmy Noether e Maryam Mirzakhani, prima donna a ricevere la medaglia Fields; le astronome Vera Rubin e Jocelyn Bell-Burnell, scopritrici della materia oscura e delle pulsar; le economiste Rosa Luxemburg, Joan Robinson e Elinor Ostrom, attente alle questioni politiche e sociali. Ampio spazio è dedicato alle Nobel - da Marie Curie a You-You Tu - e alle donne cui il premio è stato negato, come Lise Meitner e Rosalind Franklin. Un'attenzione particolare è rivolta alle scienziate italiane, da Laura Bassi e Anna Morandi-Manzolini, prime docenti universitarie nella Bologna del Settecento, a Ilaria Capua e Fabiola Gianotti, prima donna a dirigere il Cern di Ginevra, passando per Margherita Hack e Rita Levi Montalcini. In questa nuova edizione vengono ricordate le ricercatrici che in diverse epoche hanno realizzato importanti lavori collettivi: le astronome dei Cataloghi stellari dell'Ottocento, le programmatrici di Eniac, il primo calcolatore digitale, le ricercatrici del Progetto Manhattan, che contribuirono all'ideazione e alla costruzione della bomba atomica, e le scienziate afroamericane dei primi programmi spaziali della Nasa. In copertina l'attrice hollywoodiana Hedy Lamarr. È famosa per la sua bellezza ma quasi nessuno sa che negli anni Quaranta inventò lo Spread Spectrum, una tecnologia oggi usata per il Wi-Fi. Chi dice che le donne non sono portate per la scienza?
