Cooper The Pooper 2020-11-14

Would You Rather Have a Fun Night Of Laughter and Bonding With Your Kids, Or Have Them Stare At Video Games For Hours? Let's face it: kids today spend way too much time in front of a screen. In fact, the Kaiser Family Foundation External calculated that, on average, children spend a whopping 7.5 hours in front of a screen for entertainment each day. Over a year, that adds up to 114 full days of staring at screens. And that's just the time they spend in front of a screen for entertainment. It doesn't include the time they spend on schoolwork. These numbers are alarming, and many experts on child development are urging parents to provide their children with some "non-screen" activity. Of course, if you're a parent you know that's easier said than done. Kids love video games because they're fun and challenge them to explore, team up, and express their creativity. That's exactly why our unique dog author, Cooper the Pooper, came up with a fantastic game of 'Would You Rather' -- a thought provoking conversation game! In Would You Rather Game Book For Kids, you'll discover: 200+ 'Would You Rather' questions that provide hours of fun for the entire family. Geniously designed questions that make you choose between two evils, and explain your choice -- an incredible way to get your kids to express themselves. 50+ creative questions about the human body, which will make your kids interested in science and roll with laughter at the same time. 50+ superpower questions -- discover how your kids perceive the world and whether they would choose between being super smart or being super strong. Challenging scenarios and questions that will make your kids stop and think, as well as develop logic skills and empathy. A perfect way to cure boredom during long road trips, sleepovers, family dinners, and weekend mornings. And much more. Even though the questions and scenarios are designed for kids, adults will have just as much fun choosing between wacky, silly, and sometimes plain impossible choices. Besides being incredibly beneficial for your child's development, a 'Would You Rather' game is also a great way to reconnect, bond, and spend some quality family time. What better way to do that than to have countless hours of fun? If you're looking for an engaging activity that trains your kid's mind and helps them explore the world around them, then scroll up and click the "Add to Cart" button right now.
